

PROJECT FIREFIGHTER - Position Summary

Field Staff - Band 1-2 ($56,044 to $65,221 - subject to skills and experience)

A Project Firefighter (PFF) works as part of a team to deliver on ground bushfire response and land management activities on public land across Victoria. The role is part of the Forest Fire Management Victoria workforce and assists in protecting the Victorian community from bushfire and other emergencies.

The role is to be ready to respond to bushfires in forested areas such as State Forests and National Parks. Activities include making sure equipment is ready and working in a team to stop bushfires from spreading. Teams of firefighters can be sent to other areas of the state for up to a week to assist with bushfire response or planned burning. At times PFFs assist with other types of emergencies such as flood response. When not responding to emergencies, teams undertake land management work in State Forests and National Parks such as track clearing, mowing, brush cutting, road maintenance and looking after recreation sites. Training and supervision is provided for all activities so experience is not essential.
